LEGACYOFHOPE

Nelson Mandela's last wish was to build a children's hospital in Johannesburg to serve all children of southern Africa regardless of race, socio-economic status, or their ability to pay.

"I am inspired by his rich legacy that promotes justice, compassion, and solidarity. Children were very dear to Madiba and his last wish was to build the Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital."

*Graça Machel,
the wife of the late
Mr. Nelson Mandela
June 2014*

"This is a wonderful gesture of Madiba and the fund established by him for the specific benefit of the most vulnerable in society, our children".

*- Archbishop Emeritus
Desmond Tutu*

THE NELSON MANDELA CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

This much needed facility will address the fact that there are only FOUR children's hospitals currently serving the ENTIRE continent of Africa. The hospital will celebrate the legacy of Mr. Mandela and his love of children while advancing Mr. Mandela's vision to future generations. This hospital, through its training and research, will build human capacity and spread the ethos, values and approach of Mr. Mandela and entrench his values and culture throughout the world. The Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital will also be a turning point on how the world views underserved children by providing specialized pediatric care to all children, regardless of their inability to pay.

- It has aligned its mission and services with the South African Health Ministry's plan for modernization of the country's medical service plans.
- It is partnering with the National Department of Health and the Gauteng Department of Health and Social Development.
- Wits University has committed its medical school as a primary base for training and research as well as donated the land for the hospital.
- Mediclinic Southern Africa will serve as the hospital operating company.

- The Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital, 200-bed hospital, will employ more than 600 staff; and serve as a training ground for specialized caregivers for both NMCH and other Hospitals.
- Graça Machel, wife of the late Nelson Mandela, is the Chair person of the NMCH Trust and Sbongile Mkhabela is the CEO of the NMCH Trust.

Centers of Excellence will include:

- Hematology, Adolescence Hematology / Oncology
- Bone Marrow Transplant
- Cardiology & Cardiothoracic Surgery
- Neurosciences – Nephrology
- Urology/Dialysis Center
- Neonatal, Surgical and General ICU
- General Pediatric Surgery
- Craniofacial

The hospital will be run as a not-for-profit entity. Currently, there are only FOUR dedicated children's hospitals in Africa – two in Egypt, one in Kenya and one in Cape Town, South Africa, serving a population of 741 million. This, in comparison to 19 children's hospitals in Australia, 20 in Germany, 23 in Canada and more than 200 in the United States.

A CRUCIALLY NEEDED PEDIATRIC HOSPITAL IN SOUTH AFRICA IS LONG OVERDUE

To give you an idea of the imbalance, there are 14 pediatric hospitals serving California alone. As a result of this reality, many South African children simply wander ignored in their attempt to heal or survive and if these children do receive healthcare, they are thrown into comprehensive facilities that lack staff, medicine, equipment and critical pediatric expertise. In these facilities, children are unfortunately viewed as 'little adults' where the old and young suffer and heal, side-by-side.

Statistics show that South Africa ranks 145th out of 197 countries in combating infant mortality, with an average of 56.62 deaths out of 1,000 births in the last four years.

Ten years ago, Nelson Mandela enriched his living legacy by unfolding his dream of the Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital. A key figure in this dream is a person who literally stood next to Mr. Mandela as they consoled her son, Lindo, who died at the age of 5 from third degree burns. Sibongile 'Bongi' Mkhabela left the hospital without her son, but walked away with a shared vision by Nelson Mandela.

"We suddenly saw the world of sick children and it was not kind, thoughtful or childlike - it needed change," explains Ms. Mkhabela. "Nelson Mandela has been a symbol of hope in my life. I consider it an honor to be a part of this event to further his legacy and bring aid to children in need."

The shared knowledge of the realities of being incarcerated for protesting apartheid and thus for fighting for what you believe in, Mandela appointed Bongi Mkhabela CEO of the Nelson Mandela Children's Trust. Since that time Mkhabela has directed the hospital's feasibility stage, verification phase and with your help, the construction phase of the Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital.

Today, only FOUR pediatric hospitals currently serve the entire continent of Africa which is home to 450 million children.

STREAMING INFRASTRUCTURE SUMMARY

The Legacy of Hope Foundation's streaming infrastructure is unmatched in its ability to gather, focus, and deliver streamed content worldwide. Legacy of Hope has invested significantly in building a protected, in-house infrastructure platform in order to deliver branded content securely. This investment has been done for the benefit of the foundation, with the protection of branding and sponsorship dollars in mind. Benefits of the platform include, as examples; stream protection and tracking metrics. These methods ensure streams are never hopped (stolen) and then restreamed via a third-party, who may attempt to insert their own advertising, to the detriment of branded entities, funders and sponsors.

Legacy of Hope has partnered with the leaders in the industry to ensure that the foundation maintains a TIER1 global platform for distribution of the Legacy of Hope Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital Concert. This delivery strategy gives the foundation access and delivery-capability to any internet connected device worldwide, including gaming platforms such as XBOX and PS3.

Legacy of Hope's technology partners maintain the largest global access Content Delivery Network (CDN) in the world. This ensures that the concert and all related events will be viewed at scale, anywhere, by anyone. The platform enables delivery of protected content across all global markets.

The Legacy of Hope infrastructure for delivery of these events is implemented via its Technology Solutions provider, Bespın Holdings (BHI), and its key technology/delivery partners Akamai Technologies and BullDog Media Group. This TIER1 capability ensures that all of the Mandela related content produced by Legacy of Hope have the highest direct access to a global audience.

Bespın Holdings, Inc. (BHI)

As a Technology Solutions provider, BHI's team has delivered global infrastructure & platform solutions for NASA, The US Army, Lockheed-Martin, General Dynamics, GE Capital, Citigroup, Pepsi, Northrup Grumman, Bank of America, Bell Helicopter, Levi Strauss, Soci t  G n rale, Verizon Wireless, and many others since the mid-90's. BHI delivers systems integration solutions that combine the partner technologies into an integrated "platform" such as the Legacy of Hope website, streaming, user management, mobile applications and the development/deployment of the overall digital media infrastructure.

Today over 40% of all Global Streaming and Video traffic flows via the Akamai backbone CDN. Delivering the highest profile streaming events on the planet, such as: All FIFA World Cup events, The Olympics for NBC, The NFL Superbowl, Hope for Haiti Concert/MTV, American Express-Unstaged Concerts, iTunes Festival Concerts (SXSW) in addition to almost all global provisioning/content/data delivery for companies such as Facebook, Apple, Microsoft, The BBC, IBM, NBC Universal, MTV, The National Football League (NFL) and Adobe Systems, among others.

ENDORSEMENT LETTER FROM GRAÇA MACHEL, THE FIRST LADY OF SOUTH AFRICA, AND THE FORMER WIFE OF NELSON MANDELA

25 October 2013

Mr Eric Gast

Dear Eric

I met with Bongi earlier this month and was delighted and heartened to learn of the progress you are making towards making the "Legacy of Hope" concert in aid of Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital a reality next year.

The arrangement of a world concert requires meticulous planning, careful arrangement and a lot of hard work. I recognise and truly appreciate the work you have done to make the concert possible and, in turn, the realisation of Madiba's dream for the best healthcare for children of Southern Africa a reality!

I look forward to receiving regular updates as we move closer to the concert date in 2014.

Sincerely

Bands and celebrities are signing guitars worldwide for the Legacy of Hope campaign. By lending their signatures to these instruments, they are pledging their support of Mr. Mandela's values and commitment for free and accessible healthcare for the children of Africa. They're also committing the use of their social media in support with messaging and text code and the connected digital campaigns that support's the Legacy of Hope campaign. Signing of the guitars have included musical artists such as The Crystal Method, members of the Grateful Dead, Steve Jones (Sex Pistols), Guns N Roses, members of Bob Marley's Wailers, Blues Traveler, Allman Brothers, Fishbone, Parliament Funkadelic, Robbie Robertson, Andy Fraser (Free), Nine Inch Nails, The Roots and Depeche Mode.

At the end of this campaign, these guitars will go up on the walls of the Nelson Mandela Children's Hospital commemorating music and art's significant role in building this historical state-of-the-art hospital.

"Achieving this through the beauty of music and art is what Legacy of Hope is all about"

There are plans to build a recording facility for the children to learn and run as part of the healing process while producing a live streamed branded feed of top talent shows for global distribution.

"There can be no keener revelation of a society's soul than the way it treats its children." Nelson Mandela
